Real Challenges. Real Results.

ClearCompany is the solution for seamless performance management.

“The ClearCompany software saved a significant portion of our Human Resources and managers’ time in terms of creating efficiency and adding value to our processes.”

“For each manager who used the software during our most recent review cycle, ClearCompany’s technology saved each individual substantial time vs. a cumbersome process. Once we eliminated the administrative burden from our reviews, we were able to spend more time on quality performance discussions — creating succession planning and performance improvement.”

Michael S.,
Senior Recruiter

“Our performance reviews are easier to navigate, and they’re increasingly completed more on time now than in the past.”

HR Administrator

“We are able to have a fully automated performance review process and have the benefit of extracting reports.”

Sara D.,
Deputy Director of Human Resources

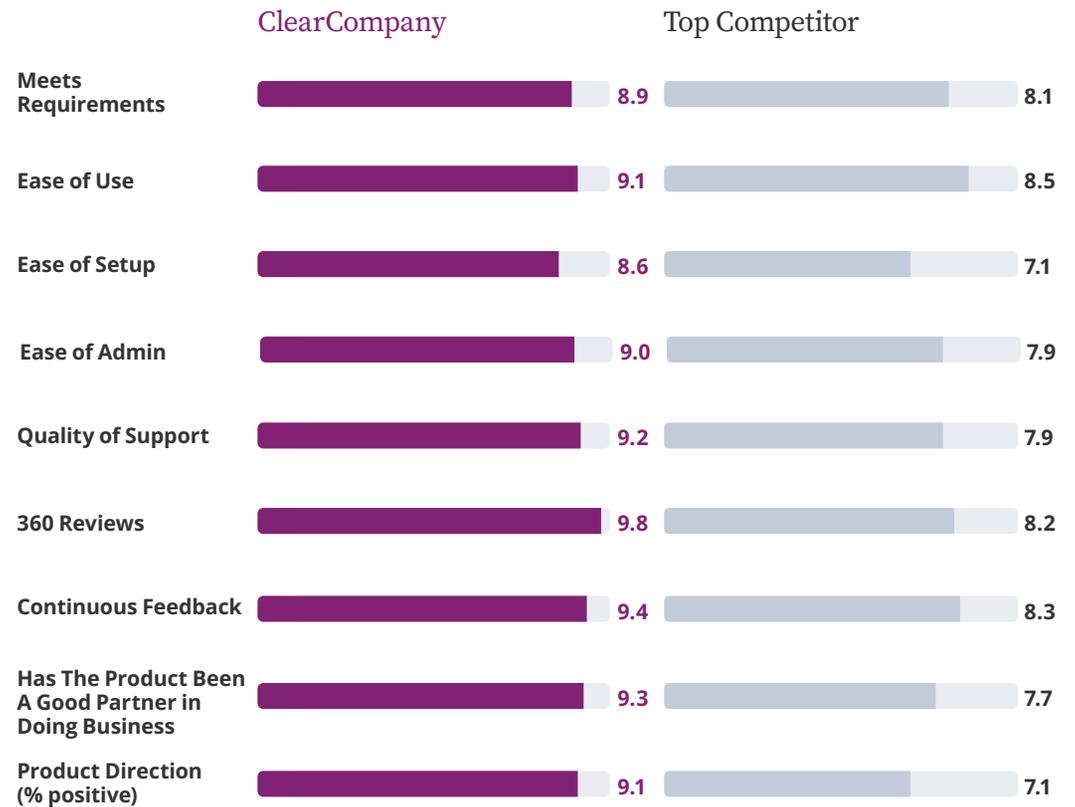

“Greater organization with a directory of staff, accountability of goals and tasks and well-organized performance reviews.”

Monica T.,
Human Resources Officer

ClearCompany Stands Up to the Competition

ClearCompany clients love our user-friendly, completely paperless performance reviews.

Top-Notch Performance Management

ClearCompany earns high ratings on leading software review sites.

Why do these badges matter?

Software Advice FrontRunners are scored based on a combination of Usability and Customer Satisfaction ratings. Like G2, scores are derived from real software users' reviews, as well as other public data. Usability is determined by averaging clients' ratings for functionality and ease of use, and Customer Satisfaction by averaging ratings for value for money, likelihood to recommend, and customer support.

The Capterra Shortlist is compiled based on Ratings and Popularity. Ratings are the product's overall average user ratings, and Popularity is a measure of user interest and relevance determined by search volume and other search data.

“The ability to tie together the Applicant Tracking System (ATS), onboarding, and performance into one platform has been invaluable.

This helps us define what success will look like for a particular role and helps us to recruit efficiently and effectively. We save time and money in the overall recruiting process, and I think that’s the greatest value of ClearCompany.”

Stowe B.,
Vice President of Human Resources,
SCS Global Services

“ClearCompany allowed us to roll out a performance review that gave us the flexibility to change the culture around feedback, goal setting, and performance in general.

We can really dial in on collaborative two-way conversations throughout the entirety of the year, and then make it easy to document and track performance over a period of time.”

Michele S.,
Associate Director of Human Resources,
Halloran Consulting Group

“We’re an HR team of two, so we were looking for something that could be an applicant tracking system that would also wrap in performance management.

Plus, we wanted to do some goal setting, and we wanted it all to be able to integrate with ADP. That was why we chose ClearCompany.”
